- 11) Costs incurred by damage to the household items by the guest – the insurer reimburses additional costs incurred as a result of sudden and unexpected damage to the items inside the house for rent or tourist apartment caused by the guest up to 350 EUR for first-loss per risk event.

For all insured events occurring during one insurance year, the insurer pays a total of up to 1.000 EUR (aggregate limit). The amount of damage compensation shall not exceed the present value of the damaged object of insurance. The insurer reserves the right of recourse against the guest responsible for the damage regardless of the existence of a police record.

When reporting a harmful event, the policyholder will provide information about the guest/s that were in the house for rent/tourist apartment at the time of the occurrence of a harmful event (name and surname, address, copy of identification document owned by the guest), evidence of registration with the tourist board and signed guest's statement about the occurrence of an event on a form given by the insurer.

B. What is not covered?

The following is not covered in terms of coverage of costs incurred by damage to building and household items by guest:

- 1) aesthetic damage that does not diminish the functionality of a particular item/device,
- 2) damage to the building incurred by the use of a motor vehicle and a trailer, and unmanned aerial vehicles (drones), and the insurer reserves the right of recourse against the guest responsible for the damage regardless of the existence of a police record.

If the insurance of household items and the building is contracted, the limits for the insurance of the cost of hotel or similar accommodation - if the house or flat becomes uninhabitable, are not added up.

2.1.8 WATER SPILLAGE

A. What is covered?

If package Extra or package Max has been contracted, the insurance also covers damage caused by water spillage from water and drainage (sewage) pipes and heating and cooling devices.

The insurance covers the following cases of damage to the subject of insurance (building and / or household items) due to water spillage from plumbing and sewer pipes:

- 1) water spillage from water and sewage pipes and heating and cooling devices:
 - due to pipe damage,
 - due to pipe blocking or freezing (only in a building that is permanently inhabited).
- 2) reimbursement of the costs of repair or replacement of the necessary part of the water and drainage pipes and pipes from heating (radiators) and cooling systems belonging to the subject of insurance, other than those for the maintenance of which the co-owners of the building (joint installation) are liable after the damage caused by water spillage together with the repair of the structural part of the building related to pipe repair (costs in addition to pipe repair).

- 3) reimbursement of water loss costs due to the occurrence of an insured event of water spillage from water pipes and pipe breakage of water supply installations. The insurer is obliged to reimburse the difference between the average amount of the water supply bill in the last three months and the increased amount of the bill as a result of the insured event of water spill, only if the difference-increase compared to the average bill is at least 10%, taking into account only variable part of the price of water supply service.
- 4) reimbursement of costs incurred by pipe breakage due to corrosion belonging to the insured person's house/flat and which cannot be controlled by the insured person.
- 5) reimbursement of costs of finding the pipe breakage location, but only if the structural part of the building is insured.
- 6) reimbursement of cost of replacing taps, odour drains and water meters, but only if household item insurance has been contracted.

B. What is not covered?

The insurer will not provide indemnity for damage caused by:

- 1) water from a sprinkler or nozzle of a water dispenser, extinguishing or soaking device,
- 2) splashing of water from aquariums, tubs and pools and the damage from water used to clean them,
- 3) subsidence, collapse or landslide, unless it has been caused by insured risk of water spillage from the plumbing and sewer pipes,
- 4) freezing of pipes and appliances within the heating system,
- 5) water spillage from open taps in the insured person's house,
- 6) failure to perform maintenance, spongy or fungus accumulations, wear, rust and corrosion of the domestic water and drainage network and hot-water heating and steam heating devices belonging to the insured person's home or that can be controlled by the insured person,
- 7) water spillage from gutters and rainwater drain pipes other than those built into the building,
- 8) water spillage from the drainage pipe of a washing machine in the insured person's house if the damage did not occur due to pipe breakage,
- 9) an earthquake, unless this danger has been specifically contracted..

Unclogging costs are not covered.

2.1.9 GLASS BREAKAGE

A. What is covered?

If a building has been insured, and package Extra or package Max has been contracted, the insurance also covers breakage of glass on:

- 1) interior and exterior doors and windows of the insured person's flat or house and ancillary premises (but only if they belong exclusively to the insured person),
- 2) glass enclosures fixed to the building (inside and on the outside).

If household items are insured, and package Extra or package Max has been contracted, insurance also covers breakage of:

- 3) glass on interior and exterior doors and windows of the insured person's flat or house,
- 4) glass on interior partitions and dividing walls of the insured person's flat or house,
- 5) glass on doors and windows at ancillary premises but only if they belong exclusively to the insured person,
- 6) glazed furniture, showcases and mirrors in the insured person's flat or house, but only if they are fixed to the wall and furniture surface,

- 7) glass on shower cabin, cooking hobs, glass hood and glass-lined kitchen wall,
- 8) toilets and washbasins, bides, bathtubs.

B. What is not covered?

The insurance does not cover damage that arises:

- 1) from transferring or fixing the insured glass outside the flat or house specified in the insurance contract,
- 2) due to scratches, caustic effects or similar damage to the glass surface,
- 3) due to an earthquake, unless this danger has been specifically contracted,
- 4) on mirrors not attached to the wall or furniture surface.

If household items and building insurance is contracted, limits for glass breakage insurance for the doors and the windows are not added up. The costs of removing and readjusting items necessary for installation of new glass are covered pursuant to the relevant limits and sub-limits under the contracted package.

2.1.10 THEFT AND VANDALISM

A. What is covered?

If a building is insured, and package Max has been contracted, the coverage includes the following in terms of danger of theft and vandalism:

- 1) theft of parts of the building: gutters, fences and other parts made of copper, iron, stainless steel and similar materials,
- 2) damage to structural parts of the building caused by attempts or the performance of burglary and robbery or inside the building due to vandalism after the burglary (we will compensate you for the costs of repairing damage to the building),
- 3) damage to the exterior parts of the buildings (façades) that are only of an aesthetic nature (e.g. graffiti).

If household items are insured, and package Max has been contracted, the coverage includes the following in terms of danger of theft and vandalism:

- 4) burglary
- 5) robbery (during which all the persons present in the flat or house with approval of the insured person are equated with the insured person)
- 6) vandalism after break-in

- 7) the cost of damage to the building due to break-in
- 8) the costs of changing the lock if the keys from the door to the insured flat or house have disappeared due to the insured event
- 9) bicycle theft:
 - from a properly closed and locked area (insured flat/house, locked storage premises, sheds used solely by the insured person or a common storage used by all tenants). If bicycle was stolen from common storage used by all tenants it is covered only if it was secured with an appropriate security lock at the time of the theft,

WITHIN THE THEFT COVERAGE, THEFT OF THE BIKE OUTSIDE THE INSURANCE LOCATION IS ALSO COVERED.

- outside a properly closed and locked area or outside the insured location if the bicycle was secured with an appropriate security lock in the way that is common in traffic.

If household items and building insurance is contracted, limits for damages to the building due to break-in are not added up.

B. What is not covered?

An act is not considered a theft if it was done or assisted by a person living with the insured person in a shared household, a person who works there or is present with the consent of the insured person.

If a building is insured:

- 1) in the event of theft of parts of the building, external units of devices and appliances are not insured, and the insurance does not cover damage to built-in equipment (e.g. boilers, air conditioning devices, external heat pump units, water pumps, solar panels, solar showers, etc.),
- 2) Insurance does not cover damage due to graffiti that already existed prior to the commencement of insurance; drawings, inscriptions and other damage that the insured person can remove with water and damage to buildings that are not yet inhabitable.

If household items are insured:

- 3) if there is risk of burglary, items located outdoors are not insured,
- 4) there is no insurance obligation for theft of a bicycle located outside the insurance location:
 - if you are unable to provide us with relevant information about the stolen bicycle (manufacturer, year of production, serial number of the frameset) and a police certificate that the bicycle was not found within 15 days from the date of reporting the theft,
 - for items that are not tightly attached to the bicycle.

2.1.11 OVER-VOLTAGE

A. What is covered?

Insurance covers damage caused by a lightning strike by direct transfer of electric energy through power lines or due to induction during atmospheric discharge.

If a building is insured, insurance covers only installations that are part of the building (built into the facility), including devices that are part of a building such as water pumps, swimming pool equipment, boilers, central heating furnaces, built-in air conditioning devices, intercoms, automatic door opening devices, built-in alarms, television and radio antennas (signal input antennas, antenna amplifiers).

Insurance of swimming pool equipment also covers damage caused by overvoltage on installations/devices that are an integral part of the auxiliary facility.

If household items are insured, insurance covers only appliances used in the household:

- household appliances: cooking hobs, ovens, dishwashers and washing machines, dryers, refrigerators, hoods, heating and cooling devices,
- multimedia: television sets, home cinema systems with loudspeakers, video devices, music devices with loudspeakers, desktop computers.

Desktop computers are insured up to the amount of 670 EUR per risk and in annual aggregate.

B. What is not covered?

Damage as a consequence of the internal surge arrester, or damage caused by fitting and disarranging parts of the net, short circuit, breakage of insulation, resonance and similar.

WE COVER DAMAGE CAUSED BY INDIRECT LIGHTNING STRIKE.

2.1.12 EARTHQUAKE

What is covered?

Earthquake insurance is contracted as additional cover, which has to be stated in your insurance policy and for which an additional premium must be paid.

A building and/or household items can be the subject of the insurance.

Earthquake damage is covered by insurance if the earthquake is seismographically registered with the relevant seismic service and its intensity is at least 5 (five) degrees on Richter scale at the epicenter of the earthquake and a magnitude of 5 (five) or higher on the Mercalli-Cancani-Sieberg or European macroseismic scale at the location of insurance.

Only the damage that is proven to be the sole and direct consequence of destruction or damage caused by a naturally occurring earthquake is covered by insurance.

An insured event, as defined in this document, means any damage caused by the earthquake, which occurred within a period of 72 (seventy-two) consecutive hours, starting from the beginning of the earthquake.

If the insured event of an earthquake occurs, the insurer shall pay the insurance claim in the amount of damage minus the deductible indicated in the insurance policy, and maximum up to the amount of the insurance.

If additional earthquake coverage is contracted, the insurance also covers damage caused by the following risks essentially caused by an earthquake: fire, explosion (other than nuclear explosion), water spillage from plumbing and sewage pipes, glass breakage, loss of rent, soil erosion, landslide and avalanche.

INSURED VALUE / SUM INSURED

This chapter provides all relevant information about the insured value, i.e. sum insured for which the insurance was contracted.

The insured value for buildings is the new value, and for household items (equipment) it is the new purchase value.

The exceptions include:

- if at the time of the insurance contract being contracted, the value of the insured property was under 40% of the new value, it shall be deemed that the insured value is equal to the actual value. The actual value is the new value of the subject of the insurance reduced by the amount of estimated wear. Wear is estimated with regard to the technical and economic wear of the subject of insurance from the day of its production to the day of the estimation,
- items that could not be used in accordance with their purpose before the insured event, where the value of the item is reduced by the amount of the estimated wear and tear, up to the sale price that the insured person can achieve.

2.1.16 DEDUCTIBLES

In terms of packages, you have the option of contracting your participation in a claim (deductible). The agreed deductible amount is stated in your insurance policy.

In such cases, the insurance claim is determined by deducting the contracted participation in a claim from the indemnity.

If the indemnity amount is lower than the contracted deductible amount, Allianz will not pay any indemnity, and if the indemnity amount exceeds the deductible amount, the indemnity will correspond to the indemnity amount minus the contracted deductible amount.

The contracted deductible shall apply to all coverages, except:

- Home Assistance,
- private liability insurance,
- glass breakage insurance.

The participation of the insured person in a claim is mandatory for additional earthquake insurance and always amounts to 10% of indemnity (min 400 EUR and max 5.400 EUR).

2.2 GENERAL EXCLUSIONS

The previous chapter included information on what is and what is not included in a specific insurance coverage. However, there are also cases to which general exclusions for all coverages apply, meaning that Allianz shall not compensate for the incurred damage, which is why it is important to be aware of such cases.

DAMAGE INCURRED DUE TO THE FOLLOWING IS NOT INCLUDED IN YOUR INSURANCE COVERAGE:

- 1) insignificant changes that do not diminish the usability value of the subject of insurance,
- 2) construction errors, material defects or performance errors,
- 3) standard wear, ageing and failure to maintain the subject of insurance if that is the most significant cause of the damage,
- 4) contamination (e.g. poisoning, soot, disposal, spraying, exposure to pressure) or corrosion. Those exclusions do not apply if the contamination or corrosion is caused due to some other damage to the property on the insured land, for which compensation is mandatory under these Terms and Conditions,

- 5) usual weather effects that need to be taken into consideration due to a season or location,
- 6) lowering, tearing, compression or dilatation of the object of insurance,
- 7) internal deterioration: micro-organisms, animals or plants,
- 8) natural properties of items,
- 9) due to the supply or loss of energy,
- 10) flood other than flood defined by these Terms and Conditions,
- 11) masses that melt glass or metal,
- 12) drought or drying,
- 13) processing or finishing.

Damage caused by the following is also not covered by insurance:

- 14) In connection with war, hostilities or war-related acts, civil war, revolution, uprising, riots arising from such events, mines, torpedoes, bombs or other weapons of war, capture, seizure, arrest, restraint or detention and consequences of such events or attempts to commit them by sabotage or terrorism arising from political belief, detonation of explosives if the person does it maliciously or from political belief, civil unrest, violence or other similar events, confiscation, requisition or other similar measures that a government or a similar organisation fighting for power or in power is enforcing or is

- planning to enforce. The insurer shall prove that the damage has been caused by any of these events.
- 15) Intent or fraud by the policyholder, insured person or insurance beneficiary.

Notification

Once further damage has been stopped and safety is ensured, for faster resolution we suggest to notify a claim in all cases no later than 24h after the event happened or you found out about it.

You can notify the claim:

- Via website www.allianz.hr
- By phone 072 100 001

While filing a claim you are obliged to provide all information that is necessary to determine the cause, scope and type of damage as well as the confirmation / printout of the IBAN on which the payment of damages will be made.

If you knowingly communicate misinformation about the origin or extent of the damage or you share only partial information when reporting the claim, we can:

- demand that you cover administrative cost of claim process
- reduce compensation we will pay
- fully reject paying any compensation.

Once claim notification is done, you will receive a personalized link for the Claims Tracker application where you can follow the status of your claim in real time 24/7.

Assessment

Before Allianz settles a claim, an assessment of the damage needs to take place. Through Claims Tracker application, you will receive all the relevant information about the assessment process.

Through the application you can submit all the documents that are necessary to perform the assessment, as an example:

- pictures of the damage and cause of the damage
- police or fire brigade report, if the authorities were notified.

In case you face some technical issues during the digital upload, or the quality of the uploaded photos is not sufficient for Allianz to perform the damage assessment, no worries! In that case, we will arrange an assessment and notify you of the arrival of an Allianz expert. We may not pay any compensation if you or the insured refuse the inspection and as a result, we will not be able to verify the type and extent of damage or circumstances that caused the damage.

The assessment finishes with a coverage confirmation from Allianz, and proposal on next steps regarding the settlement options.

Do not change the condition of the cause during the damage and do not remove it without our agreement, unless it is necessary for serious reasons (e.g. safety, hygienic or ecological).

Provide us information, whether you insured the insured property elsewhere (i.e. name of the insurance company and to provide the insurance contract number).

Repair/Settlement

We will pay the compensation to You or the person that you will authorize to get it.

In case of property insurance, the insured owner is the beneficiary. If the insured item is co-owned by several persons, the assurance benefit will be paid to each owner in the amount corresponding to the size of its ownership share.

In case of liability insurance we pay the damages to the injured party.

In case you select an option to settle the claim through cash offer calculated with usual prices, we guarantee the payment within 2 business days after receiving the statement of acceptance from your side.

YOU CAN FILE THE CLAIM ONLINE OR OVER THE PHONE AT 072 100 001.

In case you prefer reimbursement of cost of the repair or replacement, you provide us with an offer or invoice via Claims Tracker. We pay compensation up to the amount of usual repair or replacement cost in the Republic of Croatia.

We will always pay the indemnity in euros to the account given to us by the recipient. An exception is with the assistance service that we provide through our partner.

How do we calculate the settlement

The upper limit of the settlement is limited by the insurance amount or limit whereas the amount of the insurance claim shall not exceed the damage you suffered by the occurrence of the insured event. The limit of the compensation applies to the insured event or the insurance year. In case of liability we determine the compensation according to applicable legal regulations and claims applied and proven by the injured party.

In case of an insured event we shall compensate you for the following:

- in case of destroyed subject of insurance (total damage): their value at the time of occurrence of the insured event reduced by the value of the remains. The salvaged parts and the remains of the destroyed subject of insurance shall remain with you and shall be calculated according to the market value in the location of the damage according to their condition at the moment when the insured event occurred.

- in case of damage to the subject of insurance (partial damage): necessary repair costs at the time of occurrence of the insured event, and with maximum value of the subject of insurance reduced by the value of the remains;
 - if the costs of repair after deducting the value of the remains exceeds the value of the subject of insurance, the object of insurance shall be considered as having been destroyed (total damage occurred),
 - we are not obliged to reimburse higher repair costs incurred due to changes, improvements, or improvements made to the damaged item during the repair,
 - the reduction in value, if any, shall be compensated only with regard to items of special value; however, not with regard to sets in any case if the individual part of a set has been damaged,
 - if the indemnity for items of special value is limited to certain amounts, the maximum amounts are taken into account when determining the value of the objects of insurance.
- necessary additional costs incurred as a result of expenditures, fees and other charges determined by state administration authorities or local and regional self-governing units pursuant to the regulations in force prior to the occurrence of the insured event. If the renovation of the insured property that was damaged because of limitations in terms of reconstruction can only be carried out at a different location, then the additional costs incurred shall only be reimbursed in the amount that would have arisen during the renovation at the current location.

- costs incurred by an attempt to eliminate imminent danger of the occurrence of the insured event and attempt to limit its harmful consequences.

What can we deduct from the compensation?

We can reduce the claim by the amount of the deductible or outstanding debt.

Overinsurance and underinsurance

If the information provided by the policyholder for a specific structure of a building (type of the building, construction and furnishing, residential or usable area) from which the insured value is obtained does not correspond to the actual situation at the time of the occurrence of the insured event:

- we are not obliged to compensate more than the actual damage in case if by the information given by the policyholder the insured value is higher than that resulting from the actual situation (overinsurance);

- we have the right to invoke the provisions on underwriting if by the information given by the policyholder insured value is lower than that resulting from the actual situation. If it is determined that the value of an subject of insurance at the time of the occurrence of the insured event exceeds the sum insured indicated in the insurance policy, the insurance claim shall be reduced in proportion to the value of the object of insurance at the time of the occurrence of the insured event. In the case of underinsurance, only the part of the sum insured determined for each individual risk in the amount of the ratio between the sum insured and the value of the objects of insurance shall be compensated.

If at the moment of concluding the insurance contract or during its term you did not report an increased risk (e.g. the property is being leased) and you did not pay an additional premium for that risk, the amount we shall pay in the event of damage shall be equal to the premium actually paid and the premium you should have paid.

Finding a lost or stolen property

The policyholder or the insured are obliged to notify the insurer without undue delay of finding stolen or lost property or its remains after the insured event or after the payment of the settlement.

If the insurer provided indemnification after the insured event occurred, the title to the insured property is not transferred to it and it is not obliged to take over the found property unless otherwise agreed. The insurer has the right to receive what was provided in the settlement. However, the beneficiary may deduct the costs reasonably incurred to remedy the defects when he was deprived of the opportunity to dispose of the property.

What are the rescue costs and why it is important?

These are the expensively incurred costs that you or someone else had to spend on:

- preventing the occurrence of an insured event
- decreasing the consequences of an already occurred insured event
- clearing the consequences of the resulting insurance event for hygienic, environmental or safety reasons.

Costs incurred for routine maintenance or in compliance with the statutory obligation to prevent damage are not rescue costs.

How is it with the VAT?

If the entitled person has the right to deduct VAT in the event of a repair or compensation related to an insured event, we will provide the indemnification calculated without VAT.

Reduction of the settlement

If you have incorrectly or incompletely replied to our questions when entering into or changing a contract, and as a result, we have set lower premiums, we can reduce the settlement in the same proportion as the calculated premium to the one we would have in the truth-answered queries. We can also do the same if you did not report an increase in insurance risk during your insurance (e.g. changing the way you occupy the building).

If you breach the contractual obligations so that it will have a significant impact on the occurrence of the insured event or its course, we can adequately reduce the settlement by the increase of the damage.

When do we have to pay the settlement

When an insured event occurs, we shall pay indemnity within the agreed period, which shall not exceed 14 days, starting from the day you notified us that the insured event had occurred and submitted all the documentation required for processing the claim.

If certain time is needed to determine our liability or the amount, we shall pay indemnity within 30 days as of the day of the reception of the claim or during that time inform you that the insurance claim is unfounded or notify you of documentation which needs to be submitted in order to establish justification of the claim and the amount of our liability.

If we do not determine the amount of our liability within a maximum of 30 days, we shall, without delay, pay you the amount of the undisputed part of our liability as prepayment.

Feedback

Once the claim has been settled, we will ask for your feedback via your personal Claims Tracker link. Thank you for taking the time to share it with us. We highly value your opinion, and commit to continuously work on improving customer experience.

3. USEFUL TIPS

In this chapter, you will find our non-binding tips on how to better protect your assets from possible losses.

IN THE EVENT OF STRONG WINDS AND HAILSTORM, CLOSE ALL WINDOWS AND DOORS, LOWER THE BLINDS OR CLOSE THE SHUTTERS.

PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY FROM THEFT

- Keep your valuable items and cash in a bank.
- Do not post your travel plans and vacation photos on social networks.
- Illuminate the access to your house or flat using sensory lighting.
- Ask your neighbour or a friend to occasionally visit your home, turn on the lights, lift the blinds and empty your mailbox.

PREPARE YOUR HOME FOR ADVERSE WEATHER

- In the event of strong winds and hailstorm, close all windows and doors, lower the blinds or close the shutters.
- In case of snow and ice, clean the sidewalks and access roads regularly and throw salt on them if necessary.
- Regularly clean the roof gutters, drains and sewers to ensure unobstructed water flow in the event of a storm.

PROTECT YOURSELF IN THE EVENT OF FLOOD

- Move your household items to higher floors or elevated places.
- Disconnect the devices on the main circuit breakers and do not touch electrical devices if they are wet or while standing in water.

- If you are forced to leave your home, take with you your personal documents, medicines, necessary clothing, and potable water and, if possible, do not move through running water.
- After the flood, clean septic tanks as soon as possible, clean and disinfect everything you can and boil potable water.

STEPS TO BE TAKEN IN THE CASE OF A FIRE

- If the fire is of lower intensity, try to extinguish the fire using fire extinguishers or handy items.
- If the fire is larger, call firefighters. Avoid smoke, as well as inhaling combustion products, evacuate children and elderly people from the endangered areas.
- If you need to pass through a smoke-filled area, cover your head and protect your eyes, and cover your face, nose, and mouth with a wet cloth or towel.
- Turn off the gas and electricity supply.
- Do not leave any remaining fire hotspots without supervision.

HOW TO BEHAVE DURING AND AFTER AN EARTHQUAKE

- In the event of an earthquake, go outside, stay away from trees, electrical lines and buildings.
- If you are on higher floors of a high building, remain in the flat, stand under the doorpost, a wooden table or in the corner of a room.
- Stay away from glass surfaces and partition walls, and protect your eyes with your hands. Do not use matches and open fire.
- After the earthquake, shut off the gas, electrical supply and water using the master switch, leave the room and only take the most essential items. Do not use the elevator and do not drink water from the water pipes.
- If you are trapped under ruins, bang on pipes or signal in some other way in order for the rescue team to hear you.

4. QUESTIONS YOU MIGHT STILL HAVE

This section contains answers to additional questions you might still have. If you require any additional information, please contact us or visit our website for information.

Can I change the agreed insurance package during the term of the insurance contract?

Yes, by submitting a written request, no later than 30 days before expiration, to your insurance agent or via Online zahtjevi.

If I change my residence, what effect will that have on the insurance of my household items?

If you change your flat or house, insurance protection will be transferred to the objects of insurance in a new flat or house if the new flat or house conforms to that specified on the policy, does not represent an increase in risk and if you notify us of the flat or house change in writing no later than at the beginning of your relocation. If you keep the flat or house which is insured under the insurance policy during the change of the flat or house, insurance coverage is valid for both apartments for 30 days from the beginning of your relocation. If after the relocation the new flat or house is at a location for which our pricelist provides a different premium rate, the second premium rate will apply from the beginning of your relocation.

When can I change the dynamics and method of paying my insurance policy?

Each insurance year when the policy expires.

If I contract building insurance and household item insurance, do I need to pay private liability insurance and Home Assistance insurance twice?

If you contract insurance for building and household items on the same insurance policy, you will pay the premium for private liability insurance and Home Assistance only once. In that case, the sum insured for private liability and Home Assistance will not double.

Am I obligated to pay any additional costs in case of early termination of the insurance contract?

If an insurance policy discount has been contracted with regard to the term of the insurance contract, and the insurance is terminated prior to the expiration of the contracted period, we may demand the payment of a difference in the premium that should have been paid for the term of the insurance contract.
